QOFcountdown is a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet which has extensive automation built in to make it easy to use as a daily work tool - no Excel skills are needed at all, just the ability to open the file and click a button. INPS are working to offer QOFcountdown with extended integration with Vision in the near future.

By using coloured graphs and highlighted areas QOFcountdown makes it easier for practices to target cost effective activities. The practice prevalence is calculated and used to adjust the points value, these adjusted points values are used for the rest of the financial calculations.

The 3rd worst clinical area, which sets the Holistic score, is highlighted so that the practice can consider acting to improve it.
